

PETITION

Amplifying voices of women political prisoners in Iran

We, the undersigned, stand in unwavering solidarity with the courageous women of Iran who are unjustly imprisoned for their beliefs, activism, and fight for human rights and dignity.

These women are targeted not for any crime, but simply for their gender and their bravery in speaking out against injustice and demanding their fundamental rights.

These women are the voice of change, the bearers of hope for a future in which all Iranians can live in dignity, equality, and freedom.

Recently, the regime in Iran has intensified its crackdown on women activists. Women released on bail from prison face continuous harassment, receiving threatening phone calls from the IRGC (Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps). Many are forced to live in hiding, constantly changing locations to avoid abduction. In August 2024, women political prisoners in Evin Prison were brutally attacked by security forces after protesting the execution of Reza Rasaie, a detainee from the 2022 protests. Among the injured was Narges Mohammadi, a Nobel Peace Prize laureate. Furthermore, women political prisoners are denied medical care.

The regime has sentenced two women political prisoners, Pakhshan Azizi, women's rights activist and Sharifeh Mohamadi, labour rights activist, to death on fabricated charges, while two others, Nasim Gholami Simiyari and Wriha Moradi, are also at risk of execution.

We urgently call upon the international community—including the United Nations, the European Union, and governments around the world—to take immediate action and pressure the regime in Iran to:

- Release all women political prisoners in Iran unconditionally
- Overturn all execution sentences
- End the harassment and violence against women activists
- End gender persecution and gender apartheid

We also urge our sisters in WILPF to stand with us in solidarity by demanding that their governments pressure the regime in Iran to end these gross women's rights violations.

Together, we can amplify the voices of these brave women and work toward a future where no one is persecuted for their courage to speak out. Sign this petition to support the fight for justice and freedom.
