

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY 2025

WHAT A FEMINIST FUTURE MEANS TO YOUNG WILPF

"To me, a feminist future is a decolonial, borderless, and equitable world that prioritises human security over military-based solutions. It's a world with a global tax system, universal basic income, no nuclear weapons, and military budgets redirected to address the climate crisis."

DANIELA PHILIPSON GARCÍA, MEXICO
Passionate about demilitarisation, disarmament and the care economy

"A feminist future is equitable and just for all identities, where everyone has equal rights and protections while celebrating their uniqueness. It is rooted in common security, sustainability, and solidarity. To build this future where no one is left behind, we must first act locally and fight injustice in our communities."

MARGARET ENGEL, USA
Passionate about peace activism through art

"A feminist future is one where women and marginalised communities have full autonomy over their lives, access to equal opportunities, and a world free from gender-based violence. To build this future, we must challenge discriminatory systems, advocate for inclusive policies, and amplify the voices of those most affected by injustice."

MARIAM GAMAL LOUCA, EGYPT
Passionate about dismantling barriers to gender equality and fostering spaces where feminism is practiced through dialogue and diplomacy

"I envision a feminist future where our struggles highlight women's power. It's a society where everyone has equal access to opportunities and rights, regardless of gender identity or discrimination. With global political and social support, we will create a beautiful world."

MUZHDA, AFGHANISTAN
Passionate about feminist activities through dialogue and diplomacy

"Un avenir féministe c'est un monde où l'égalité des genres est pleinement réalisée, avec les mêmes droits et opportunités pour tou·te·s. Il repose sur l'éducation, la lutte contre les stéréotypes, l'égalité économique, la protection contre les violences de genre et l'accès aux droits reproductifs."

FATOU FALL, SÉNÉGAL
Je suis passionné par la lutte contre les stéréotypes et les inégalités sociales basées sur le genre

"Pour moi, un avenir féministe c'est une société où la pensée n'a pas de genre et que les femmes et les hommes collaborent sur un pied d'égalité pour bâtir un monde juste et solidaire."

SOLANGE BA, SÉNÉGAL
Je suis passionnée par le développement communautaire et la défense et promotion des droits des femmes

"A feminist future is a decolonial, just, equitable, and care-based future. It is one born of the localised, inter-generational, intersectional work we carry out in WILPF together."

EBONIE KIBALYA, AUSTRALIA
Passionate about relational approaches to peacebuilding with strong personal commitment to the Asia-Pacific and African Great Lakes regions
